To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Mubashir Ali, who was my student in Biology during his 11th and 12th grades at USWA College, Islamabad. Throughout his time in my class, Mubashir demonstrated exceptional curiosity, diligence, and intellectual maturity. He consistently approached complex biological concepts with critical thinking and a keen analytical mind, which set him apart from his peers.

Beyond his academic excellence, Mubashir has shown remarkable initiative and creativity. He developed Bio-Data-Hub, a Visual Studio Code extension for exploring biological datasets, completed the IBM Data Science Specialization, and undertook undergraduate-level Computer Science coursework at the University of the People. These achievements reflect not only his technical proficiency but also his ability to bridge biology and technology in meaningful ways.

Mubashir's commitment to service and community is equally impressive. He volunteered at Shaukat Khanum Memorial Cancer Hospital, assisting patients and supporting community outreach initiatives. His dedication to learning and giving back demonstrates a balance of intellect, compassion, and leadership.

I am confident that Mubashir will excel in any academic environment he chooses to join. His passion, perseverance, and interdisciplinary skills make him an outstanding candidate for higher education. I wholeheartedly recommend him for admission and any opportunities he pursues.

Sincerely,

Ismatullah Khan Niazi
